Know all men that I have sold of the City of Detroit in the County of Wayne and State of Michigan by deed (Case No. 1866-1867) and duly recorded the within plat of subdivision of part of the Cass Farm north of the Grand River Road in the City of Detroit, observed to be correct in black number eighty four [84] eighty seven [87] and eighty eight [88] on said farm and who duly dedicated to the use of the public the land designated in the accompanying plat as Third attract, second attract, first attract and other attract granting to and for the use of the public on Third attract for highway purposes a parcel fifty feet in width and granting further on the same street for said water-shed bay and unsurveyed parcels a parcel in the center of said street twenty feet in width and further granting to and for the use of the public on second attract for street and other attract for highway purposes a parcel fifty feet in width on each side of said street and granting further on each of the same attracts for said water-shed and unsurveyed parcels four a feet on each side of the forty feet of said street in width according to the plat accompanying this dedication to which reference is respectively made as a plat first and also having fully name to myself the width of each of the said parcels in and control over the twenty feet parcel on Third attract and the thirty feet parcel on second attract, for street and other attract, first attract, and other attract, as made appear above explained and dedication of the parcels recited by Third attract, second attract, first attract, and other attract, as made appear to the condition that said parcel of twenty feet in Third attract and thirty feet on second attract, first attract, and other attract shall be used and as open road. Witness my hand and seal this nineteenth day of May A.D. 1866
