These Congressional proceedings began in 1844 and have many precedents in the history of the United States. The first conference was held in 1844 in Washington, D.C. and was organized by a group of men known as the "National Association of Manufacturers". The purpose of the conference was to discuss the various issues that were facing the nation at the time. The conference was held in a room in the city of Washington, D.C. and was attended by many of the leading men of the time. The conference was held for a period of several days and was a very important event in the history of the United States.
